71 vladimir belyakov quoting washington times saying that u.s. armed forces in the persian gulf area and its proximity are on alert and in connection with this that the united states has stationed many forces in the region. it is well known fact that washington declared the persian gulf as the area of its strategic interests a long time ago. oil resources, like magnets, attract the u.s. imperialists. the geographic situation of the area also attracts the u.s. strategists, who are constantly seeking pretexts to escalate their military presence in the area.
During the recent years the iran-iraq war has turned into this type of pretext. washington is now trying to use the new culmination of the iraq-iran war as a pretext. the course of events show that u.s. activities in the region are a great threat to the sovereignty and independence of regional nations. everything should be done to stop the iran-iraq conflict because the imperialists, under the conflict's veil, try to implement their extremely dangerous plans. (3 min: persian 1800) US
